

THE TIMOTHY T DAY FOUNDATION

Fall/Winter Newsletter 2014

Volume 1

A DAY MAKES ALL THE DIFFERENCE

Mt. Soledad Plaque Dedication

May 2014

A plaque honoring Tim's Marine Corps service was added to the Mt. Soledad Veteran's Memorial in La Jolla, California, on Saturday, May 3, 2014.

The Mt. Soledad Veteran's Memorial mission is to create a monument honoring veterans who have served our country, as both a unique registry of our military heritage and to educate the public on the contributions of military personnel throughout our nation's history.

Ranjay Gulati of Harvard Business School Attends Marine Corps Evening Parade with AMP Alumni

August 2014

Ranjay Gulati, Chair of the Advanced Management Program (AMP) at Harvard Business School traveled to Washington, D.C. to attend the well-known Marine Corps Evening Parade at 8th & I on August 22, 2014. Tim Day and some of our AMP Fellowship alumni happily joined Mr. Gulati to celebrate the collaborative efforts of the Marine Corps, Harvard Business School, and the Timothy T. Day Foundation. A good time was had by all.

"He (Ranjay) is such a huge supporter of the Marines at HBS, and I hope he realizes how grateful we are for his clearly going out of his way to make us feel welcome at Harvard."

- Col Sklenka

"Great picture; great people; all-around great event in every way! Thank you so much for bringing the Fellowship Family together, and it was another special Marine Corps-HBS moment seeing Ranjay and his son at the 8th and I Parade."

- Col Bowers

"Terrific to have Ranjay and his son join us for the Evening Parade. The Day Fellowship, HBS, Marine Corps triad continues to strengthen!" - Col Donovan

Brigadier General Kevin Killea

Colonel Stephen Sklenka

Colonel David Eskelund

Colonel James Glynn

Harvard Business School AMP Honorees

September 2014

Congratulations to Brigadier General Kevin J. Killea and Colonel Stephen D. Sklenka on having completed the Advanced Management Program at Harvard Business School this past May 2014. And we are pleased to announce that Colonel David Eskelund and Colonel James Glynn have been selected as the ninth and tenth participants in the Timothy T. Day Marine Corps Executive Education Fellowship.

With the collaboration of the Marine Corps, the Timothy T. Day Marine Corps Executive Education Fellowship at Harvard Business School was established in 2011 to fund the attendance of senior officers in the Advanced Management Program (AMP) or similar leadership development programs at HBS. The Fellowship is awarded to qualified career officers who have demonstrated exceptional leadership – particularly those who have served in combat operations and are recognized as having great potential as future leaders of the Marine Corps. It is hoped that this distinctive executive educational opportunity would further enhance their intellectual capital.

MCSF 2014 - 2015 Day Scholar Award Recipients

“Honoring Marines By Educating Their Children”

September 2014

In the summer of 2012, the Timothy T. Day Foundation, Inc. created the Day Scholars Program to provide additional college financial and mentoring assistance to high performing rising seniors who are children of Marines – particularly those who are considering military service or whose parents were wounded or killed in combat.

Congratulations to the 2014 – 2015 recipients of the Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation Day Scholars award.

Corporal Matthew Andenoro (University of Phoenix)
Nathan Anisko (Georgia College and State University)
Amanda Beckett (City University of New York/Lehman College)
Taylor Bodine (Ottawa University)
Meagan Burns (Old Dominion University)
Ashley DeLeon (Texas Christian University)
Chelsea Ehret (Missouri University of Science and Tech)
Kareem El (Howard University)
Matthew Gonzalez (University of Colorado)
Allison Solis (University of St. Thomas)

Timothy T. Day Overlook and Heritage Center Parkway Semper Fidelis Memorial Park, National Museum of the Marine Corps

The Vision. November 2011

The Progress. August 2014

Construction at the Overlook Site at the National Museum of the Marine Corps is well under way with hopes of having the dedication before year end.

Noteworthy Fellow Updates

- Col Eric Austin: Now the Commanding Officer of Marine Aircraft Group 14 and residing in Cherry Point, NC
- Colin Barry: Now working for Localytics and residing in Cambridge, MA
- Col Bill Bowers: Received the Ground Safety Award and is developing case method studies to make better Marines
- Peter Brooks: Now working for Xylem, Inc. and residing in Los Angeles, CA
- Dan Burton: Started a new business, Dronebase, Inc.
- Patrick Cleary: Been working for Algeco Scotsman and helping to get the company back on track
- David Crabbe: Has been working on large scale mergers with Boston Consulting Group
- Col Frank Donovan: Did a great job pulling out all the stops for Tim's Forum Group visit to Quantico and gathering AMP Fellows, also known as "the Tribe," for Ranjay's visit
- Nate Fick: Learning a ton as CEO of Endgame
- Sarah Ford: Recently moved to Quantico, VA and resides on base
- BGen Kevin Killea: Been traveling including Italy and Hawaii for exercises and then to Europe with ACMC
- Mike Lobach: Welcomed baby Hunter Jack Lobach, born on April 12, 2014
- Ahron Oddman: Completed his summer internship with RallyPoint and soon to welcome baby #2
- Col Dave Odom: Recently completed a month of maneuvers and training in the Outback of Australia
- Blake Rice: In discussions for a potential acquisition through District Line Partners
- Col Stephen Sklenka: Participated on a screening board for battalion and squadron commanding officers
- BGen George Smith: Dealing with the complex challenges of integrating female Marines into demanding occupational specialties and completed a command screening board for colonel commanders
- Col Bob Sofge: Now serving in Aviation Plans and Policy at HQMC and residing in Falls Church, VA
- Dan West: Received first year academic honors at HBS; accepted to Harvard Law School for a joint degree

A Word from Tim...

"Major aspects of life should be planned and not left up to chance, because if you don't know where you are going, any road will take you there – and surely, you do not want your life's journey to end up just 'anywhere'."

SEMPER FIDELIS

Lulu's Corner

A Human Hero

February 2014

The Friends of Animal Care & Control honored Sandy Day as their Human HERO of the Year on February 8, 2014. She received the award at a fundraising dinner sponsored by the organization at the Montelucia Resort and Spa. The 11th annual Hero Awards honored both animal and human heroes who have made a significant and positive impact in the community. The money raised will support the organization's life-saving spay/neuter program in Maricopa County, AZ.

More than 300 business and community leaders attended this year's event. Over the course of the last three years, through the Timothy T. Day Foundation and Lulu's Fund, Sandy has provided more than $242,000 in funding to support the Friends of Animal Care & Control and Maricopa County Animal Care & Control. This money has been used to fund more than 3,841 life-saving spay/neuter surgeries for pets of low-income families in the community. Her generosity has impacted not only the animals within Maricopa County, but also those across Arizona and the country as a whole.

Article edited from the following:

<http://www.azredbook.com/article?id=1569>

Ground Breaking Ceremony for AAC

August 2014

The Animal Adoption Center (AAC) has big plans that will help ensure its shelter stays in downtown Jackson for years to come. With help from Lulu's Fund, the nonprofit has obtained a new property and broke ground for a 2,500-square-foot building on August 19, 2014. AAC has rescued more than 3,000 animals in its decade-long existence. The center often has animals that have been abandoned and were in kill and overcrowded shelters.

In early 2012 Lulu's Fund joined Phoenix Animal Care Coalition 911 (PACC911) to create Lulu's Angel Fund. To date 43 animals, who have been victims of serious abuse or neglect, have been rescued and their medical expenses have been covered up to $2,500 per case. Peaches, featured above, is one of our success stories.