MARINE CORPS RECRUIT DEPOT GRADUATION, SAN DIEGO, CA

June 12, 2015

At the invitation of Brigadier General James Bierman, Tim Day was asked to be the Parade Reviewing Officer (PRO) for the June 12 graduation ceremonies at MCRD San Diego, California. Tim was originally planning to just visit and tour the Base as a guest of the MCRD Museum Foundation, so this offer was an unexpected and welcomed honor.

MCRD MUSEUM FOUNDATION'S 27TH ANNUAL GLOBE & ANCHOR SALUTE

June 20, 2015

MCRD Museum Foundation's annual fundraising event called the Globe & Anchor Gala took place on Saturday, June 20, 2015, at the Marriott Mission Valley Hotel in San Diego, California. Tim was the Guest of Honor Speaker and discussed how his service in the Marine Corps – more than 50 years ago – has positively impacted his life. The experience had an enormous influence on his core values, personal traits, and character – and that influence still guides his actions to this day. Tim described the many benefits of Marine Corps training, which he pointed out are priceless gifts that serve us well throughout life and have a lot to do with who we become professionally and personally. His closing tribute to all Marines "in every clime and place" produced a standing ovation from the approximate 400 guests attending the event.

The Globe & Anchor Gala event proved to be a very successful fundraiser with all proceeds going to the MCRD Museum Foundation. Their mission is the preservation of Marine Corps history and to promote a deeper understanding of the historical role of the United States Marine Corps and the men and women who have served as Marines.

DINNER WITH MARINE FRIENDS

August 17, 2015

A very special evening was had in Jackson, Wyoming, with General Jim Mattis and Michele Flournoy. Jim Mattis is an iconic figure in the Corps, and Michele is the CEO of CNAS (Center for a New American Security). She is the former Under Secretary of Defense for Policy, and is very supportive of our Foundation since she has had the privilege of working with many recipients of our Harvard Business School Fellowships.

MARINE WEEK PHOENIX, ARIZONA

September 10-13, 2015

It was such a privilege to have Marine Week in our own backyard this year! The United States Marine Corps partnered with the city of Phoenix to bring Marine Week to the Valley of the Sun, and it proved to be a huge success.

Many members of our Fellowship Family came to Phoenix and took the time to reconnect – joining us in celebrating the week and participating in many Marine Corps related activities. Events included a flight on an MV-22 over Phoenix; opening ceremonies at the Civic Space Park with the Silent Drill Team; a rowdy “Tribe” dinner at the Biltmore Hotel; martial arts and military dog demonstrations; MCA leadership lunch at Arizona Country Club; Marine Night at the ballpark watching Diamondbacks beat the Dodgers; an early Saturday morning hike in the Phoenix Preserve followed by a hearty Mexican lunch with margaritas at Blancos; tour of the new Day Biltmore Residence; brunch that included a Sgt. Reckless Presentation by Robin Hutton (author) and Jocelyn Russell (sculptor); a Fellowship update meeting at The Day Family Office; Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation Annual Dinner at the Westin Kierland resort; and farewell shots of scotch at Tim’s Bar.

New memories were made while celebrating our patriots, thanking them for their support and demonstrating why the Marine Corps is to be honored for serving our great Nation.

MARINE CORPS ASSOCIATION & FOUNDATION PHOENIX LUNCHEON

September 11, 2015

Tim Day, veteran Marine and CEO of the Timothy T. Day Foundation, was presented the “Chesty Puller Award” in recognition of the support he has provided MCA&F.

Tim (center in the orange shirt) was joined by members of The Day Family Office; sculptor Jocelyn Russell (third from right); author of “Sgt Reckless: America’s Warhorse”, Robin Hutton (second from right); and Marines and their spouses from the Timothy T. Day Foundation’s Fellowships at Harvard Business School.

AUGUST 2015

The National Museum of the Marine Corps is undergoing a major expansion with construction scheduled for completion in the Fall of 2017. The project includes a new entrance to the Museum grounds which is expected to open this Fall.

A Word from Tim...

Our Family Office team has undergone recent changes that are worthy of mention. It is with pleasure, I welcome my daughter Leslie Pellillo as the COO of The Day Family Office, replacing Stacy Tucker.

Leslie previously was Vice President of Marketing for Bar-S Foods Co. and has worked closely with me in a professional capacity for more than eighteen years. She is an outstanding executive with a strong personal interest in the operations of our Family Office and the future of our family members, and I am confident that she will excel in this position.

With change comes challenge – but it also brings refreshing new ideas, creativity, and skills. I see a bright future for the growth and potential of our Family Office.

Lulu's Corner

Sandy Day and Lulu in front of the new Animal Adoption Center in Jackson, Wyoming

"It might be hot out there but supporting free spay & neuter is hotter!"

Lulu's Fund is proud of its continued partnership with Friends of Animal Care & Control to assist in providing free spay and neuter services to our community.

You gotta have Faith...

Amazing Faith... this sweet girl was run over by a car six months ago and is receiving a plea for help. A woman stated she found her and picked her up – but couldn't afford the vet care and was willing to surrender her to a rescue... of course, 2nd Chance Dog Rescue could not let this poor girl suffer another day. While Faith does not have the use of her back legs, she does not let this get her spirits down.

Red Flyer, The Handicapped Pets Community, donated the cart, and Eddie's Wheels for Pets made the cart. Faith will be undergoing two surgeries: the first one is to have her left back foot removed; the second surgery is to put pins in her right back leg, in the hope that it will give her better stability when she isn't using her chair. As heartbreaking as this sounds, Faith is extremely grateful and happy to be alive and safe.

2nd Chance Dog Rescue also thanks Phoenix Animal Care Coalition (PACC911) for choosing Faith to be one of Lulu's Angel Fund recipients and for sponsoring her medical costs for up to $2,500. PACC911's continued support and love for animals in need has helped save so many – and 2nd Chance Dog Rescue will always be grateful and honored to be a part of PACC911's generosity.

See more stories like Faith's on their website.

LULU LEGACY FUND UPDATE COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

Tim and Sandy established the Lulu Legacy Fund to honor their pug, Lulu. Lulu had suffered from lifelong snorting and snores that they always assumed were normal pug sounds. One day they realized Lulu suffered from an uncomfortable pug airway condition and eventually brought her to Colorado State University Veterinary Teaching Hospital (CSUVTH) to see Dr. Eric Monnet. Dr. Monnet specializes in all forms of minimally invasive surgery and performed a procedure on Lulu that transformed her life and the lives of the Day family. Lulu has been enjoying her worry-free breathing for over 3 years now.

Dr. Monnet performing a procedure

Due to the kindness and generosity of the Timothy T. Day Foundation and Lulu's Fund, the CSU team and Dr. Monnet have been focusing their research efforts on the effect of upper airway obstruction on gastroesophageal reflux (GER). Many dogs with upper airway obstruction develop aspiration pneumonia, which can be caused by gastroesophageal reflux. Dr. Monnet's research team has recently concluded a study that supports this concept, and they are the first group to demonstrate a correlation between upper airway obstruction and gastroesophageal reflux in dogs. A manuscript has been submitted to Veterinary Surgery and CSUVTH hopes to see the study accepted and published soon. CSUVTH is now focused on how to prevent GER and determining if surgery of the upper airway obstruction is effective in preventing reflux or if other protocols should be recommended. Continued research and study is still needed to help these animals - and CSUVTH is committed to advancing their knowledge and providing lasting relief to suffering dogs in the future.

In the Spotlight

OUR MISSION:

- To provide a loving home, good food, high quality vet care, compassion and comfort to senior dogs for the remainder of their lives.
- To build a Forever Foster Home network to enable us to place more senior dogs in loving, home settings for the duration of their lives.
- To provide education on the joys and challenges of caring for aging dogs.
- To work with other dog rescue groups to promote the adoption of senior dogs.

APARN

ARIZONA PUG ADOPTION & RESCUE NETWORK

CONGRATULATIONS TO KODY - WINNER OF APARN'S CUTEST PUG CONTEST 2015!

Lulu's Fund is a proud supporter of APARN, and each year matches up to $25,000 on funds raised by this event.

Vanstone
STUDIOS

Since their start in 2001, APARN has rescued over 2500 pugs. They've taken in all kinds of pugs, from pregnant pugs with puppies on the way, to 17 year-old pugs whose owners simply no longer wanted them, and everything in between. APARN never turns down a pug in need, hence their motto, "No Pug Left Behind." APARN will usually have 70-90 pugs in foster care at any given time, which includes the 12-15 Forever Foster pugs, which are pugs with issues deemed too severe to be adopted out, so they remain in their foster home under APARN's loving care for the rest of their lives. APARN is an all-volunteer and all-donation based organization that strives to give each pug the best care they can, as they search to find them Forever Homes.
