

DAY FAMILY OFFICE RETREAT

August 2016

The Family Office team was privileged to get out of the Phoenix heat and visit Jackson, WY for a week in August. The office retreat provided a great opportunity to not only visit several of the organizations the Foundation supports, but also to experience and enjoy many of the sights and outdoor activities that makes Jackson so special.

One of the highlights of the trip was getting a private tour of the trail improvements that are underway at Jenny Lake. The Grand Teton National Park Foundation (GTNPF) campaign called “Inspiring Journeys” is funding the project, and the Timothy T. Day Foundation is proud to support the campaign by specifically funding the reconstruction of the South Cascade Creek Trail. Leslie Mattson, President of GTNPF, and several guides led us on a hike through the backcountry, past Hidden Falls and up to Inspiration Point, where we saw firsthand the enormous undertaking and progress being made to improve the trails. The team also visited the Animal Adoption Center in downtown Jackson, (see Lulu’s Corner for more on that).

To complete the trip, the group enjoyed a river rafting adventure down the Snake River, took several scenic hikes, encountered first-time experiences with beautiful wildlife, and simply admired the grandeur of the breathtaking Grand Tetons.

HONORING MARINE CORPS LEADERS

FORUM RETREAT – DINNER WITH GENERAL JAMES MATTIS

October 2016

Tim Day's "Amigos Forum" group had a memorable dinner with General James "Mad Dog" Mattis, in Palo Alto, CA. Tim had the pleasure of introducing General Mattis, and his remarks included stories provided by MBA Fellows Nate Fick and Sarah Ford, mostly related to Task Force 58 in Afghanistan. General Mattis' comments throughout dinner were very insightful, enlightening, and right on target - and reflected his many years of command experience in the most trying of circumstances. It was most refreshing to talk with someone of his stature who clearly has thought through difficult issues, faced the challenges of leading under fire, and has developed a clear vision of how to move positively forward in the future. At the time, General Mattis expressed no desire for political office – but if that were to change, our country would greatly benefit from his outstanding leadership.

SGT. RECKLESS HONORED AT CAMP PENDLETON

October 2016

The Foundation is proud to recognize the hard work and devotion of Robin Hutton, (author of the New York Times bestselling book, Sgt Reckless: America's War Horse), who has spearheaded the efforts to recognize the contributions of Sgt Reckless as a great Marine during the Korean War! She, along with Jocelyn Russell, (sculptor of the magnificent 10-foot statue), and a huge team of supporters, have brought this hero to life at her new home at the Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton, CA. AMP Fellow and Commanding General BGen Kevin Killea, was also in attendance and helped dedicate the monument.

EAST COAST ADVENTURE

November 2016

Tim and Sandy Day, along with Family Office COO, Leslie Pellillo, took a whirlwind of a trip to the East Coast in November to visit several of the organizations the Foundation supports. The trip started in Washington DC, and the first stop was to Quantico, VA, to see all the sights in Semper Fidelis Memorial Park. Several of our Marine Fellows and their spouses that live in the area also participated in the full day of events. The group visited the Chapel, the Overlook, and strolled along the brick pathway that is dedicated to the family and friends of Timothy T. Day. Next, the group spent some time in the National Museum of the Marine Corps, which included a hard-hat tour of the construction site for the Museum's 117,000 sq. ft. expansion project called the "Final Phase". It was exciting to see the progress, and the expansion is due for completion in 2017, with the installation of the exhibits to follow over the next several years. When the work is finished the Museum will have more than doubled in size, and much of the Corps' legendary history will be fully displayed.

Included in the new space will be:

- Giant screen movie theater (opening 2017)
- Expanded Education Suite and Children's Gallery (opening 2017)
- A Combat Art Gallery and Studio (opening 2017)
- Hall of Valor (opening 2018)
- Historical galleries covering the Corps' history from 1976 to the present (opening 2018)
- Marine Corps Sports Gallery and Hall of Fame (opening 2019)
- Inter-wars Gallery (1919-1940) (opening 2020)
- Changing Exhibits Gallery (opening 2020)

The day wrapped up with a Fellowship Meeting in the Devil Dog Diner where everyone gave a brief update on what's been happening in their lives, followed by a fun evening of dining at a nearby restaurant.

While in the DC area, Tim, Sandy, and Leslie also had various meetings at Marine Corps University, Marine Corps Association Foundation, Marine Corps Scholarship Foundation, and the Center for New American Security. One of the highlights of the trip included a visit to the Pentagon where they met the Commandant, General Neller, and Assistant Commandant, General Walters. Not to mention, it was also very exciting to be in DC with friends and fellow Marines watching history be made on Election Day.

Tim, Sandy, and Leslie then headed to Boston. A lot of time was spent on the Harvard Business School (HBS) Campus, which included: attending the HBS Veterans Day/Marine Corps Birthday Ball where Tim was recognized as the oldest Marine during the birthday cake-cutting celebration; spending time with some of our HBS MBA Fellows and their fiancées; participating in a HBS case study class; touring Shad Hall Fitness Center and reviewing a future expansion and renovation project, which the Foundation plans to support; and meeting with various HBS administrators including Nitin Nohria, Dean of Harvard Business School, and Ranjay Gulati, Chair of the Advanced Management Program. Prior to returning home to the West Coast, they also attended the Semper Fidelis Society of Boston's Marine Corps Birthday Luncheon on November 14.

Another leg of the trip was to visit one of Tim's alma mater, Wesleyan University in Connecticut. Tim, Sandy, and Leslie attended a lunch for veterans on the campus where Tim was the guest speaker, which was followed by a full afternoon of activities in the Freeman Athletic Center. They met with various coaches, joined the football team during one of their pre-game meetings and Tim was asked to address the team, and finally, participated in a plaque dedication ceremony in the Anderson Fitness Center that recognized Tim and the Foundation for funding the new fitness equipment project.

The following day they attended a Salute to Service Brunch that honored all the veterans in the Middletown community, and Tim gave some inspiring remarks. Next, was the popular "Battle of the Birds" (Wesleyan vs Trinity) football game where Tim served as honorary captain and did the coin toss. Wesleyan won the coin toss, but unfortunately lost the game. The Wesleyan trip ended with a memorable dinner with several of Tim's old Chi Psi fraternity brothers.

All in all, the trip was outstanding. It was wonderful to see everyone and observe the work of the Foundation in motion.

BAD RAP

A Better Life for Michael Vick's Pit Bulls

"Donna Reynolds and Tim Racer founded BAD RAP—Bay Area Dog lovers Responsible About Pit Bulls—in 1999, and in 2007, Reynolds and Racer were among the nine experts asked by the ASPCA to help evaluate 49 of the dogs seized from Vick's Bad Newz kennels and held in Virginia-area shelters. When the dogs were initially seized, Reynolds and Racer had submitted a proposal to evaluate them, hoping to fend off their immediate destruction, and were gratified when the government agreed.

It was a dog fighting case, and a hoarding case, and a neglect case. Vick had amassed more dogs than he could fight or sell. The dogs spent deprived lives caged or chained to car axles in the woods. After they were confiscated and parceled out to six different Virginia animal control shelters, their isolation continued.

Although dogs don't tell stories, they have stories, and stories help us understand. The saga of Vick's Bad Newz Kennels, and the dogs who were hung, drowned or electrocuted when they displeased their handlers, grabbed the public's attention. The dogs who died helped people see the surviving dogs as victims, not monsters. The story changed."

2ND CHANCE DOG RESCUE AND PACC911 LULU'S ANGEL FUND TEAM UP AGAIN TO SAVE ANOTHER LIFE

"Sargent laid on the concrete outside a convenience store in Sacatan, Arizona. Sadly, one by one, people walked past him. No one realized he was suffering in pain. No one worried about how sad or scared he was because he was lost and had nowhere to go. Sargent was simply ignored, as no one took the time to recognize this gentle boy desperately needed help until his savior came along.

One man did stop and take notice. He asked around and found out Sargent did not belong to anyone at the store, so he took Sargent home to begin a search for his family. Once home, he and his wife realized Sargent had a gaping wound on his underside. He needed medical attention right away. The couple reached out to 2nd Chance Dog Rescue. Working together, and with the financial assistance of PACC911's Lulu Angel Fund Program, they took Sargent to a hospital where he got medication and stitches for the critical wound. Unfortunately, it was also determined that Sargent had heartworms and needed immediate treatment. Thanks to Sargent's hero who didn't walk away, his wound did not get infected and he will recover from heartworms. Sargent's owners never came forward, but he is now safe and part of the devoted family of 2nd Chance Dog Rescue where he will stay with his loving foster family until he is ready for adoption."

Thank you PACC911 Lulu's Angel Fund and 2nd Chance Dog Rescue for giving Sargent a new life!

REMEMBERING THOSE WHO'VE GONE TO THE RAINBOW BRIDGE

Just this side of heaven is a place called Rainbow Bridge. When an animal dies that has been especially close to someone here, that pet goes to Rainbow Bridge. There are meadows and hills for all of our special friends so they can run and play together. There is plenty of food, water and sunshine, and our friends are warm and comfortable.

All the animals who had been ill and old are restored to health and vigor. Those who were hurt or maimed are made whole and strong again, just as we remember them in our dreams of days and times gone by. The animals are happy and content, except for one small thing; they each miss someone very special to them, who had to be left behind.

They all run and play together, but the day comes when one suddenly stops and looks into the distance. His bright eyes are intent. His eager body quivers. Suddenly he begins to run from the group, flying over the green grass, his legs carrying him faster and faster.

You have been spotted, and when you and your special friend finally meet, you cling together in joyous reunion, never to be parted again. The happy kisses rain upon your face; your hands again caress the beloved head, and you look once more into the trusting eyes of your pet, so long gone from your life but never absent from your heart. Then you cross Rainbow Bridge together....
